Words are ineffective tools when put to the task of recounting the experience of competing in the Captain's trophy last Saturday. The 1000 yard line is challenging in perfect conditions. If a straw poll were taken on the day, it would hereinafter be referred to as Misery Mound. No shooter made limit in the swirling fluctuating wind which had flags guessing which way to point and at times giving up and pointing at each other across the range. It fell upon the youngest member (who isn't experienced enough yet to realise that she should have been far more intimidated than she was) to show that it was possible to achieve a result using less than 200% of handicap. Her grandad was the only other contender, but I doubt that saved him from the usual ribbing on the ride home. Well done Jade. Next Week, J & D Hoerisch Trophy 700 Yards.
