The Adam Pohl Trophy drew twelve competitors to the range in what was to be a day of surprises and required count backs in both Target Rifle and F Open to decide the winners. However, it was Peter Dayman again, after winning the S & T Barrie Trophy last Saturday, that went on to win the Pohl trophy on handicap using 77.42% of his handicap. Can he make it three in a row? Heavy overcast clouds prevailed during the day however the wind was constant and only required minor changes that proved to be critical for some of the F class members. Next week's competition is to be the Mully's Home Maintenance Trophy and Light River Aggregate Stage 2 and will be shot from the 800 yard mound.
