H (Joe) Doddridge Memorial Trophy. The 400 yard range is shot just once a year and is sponsored by the Club in memory of one of its legends from the past. Joe's trophy was contested by a small but intrepid field who, in a parallel to The Men Who Stare At Goats, willed the captain into taking a chance on the threatening weather. He called a go, and in the end was justified as the day was a gem; consistent right wind, changing light and a fresh 11 degrees. Only Geoff Neldner and Jim Taylor shot within limit, and you can bet that Joe Doddridge would have smiled at seeing his old mate Geoff take the trophy. Well done Geoff. Next week; Eddy Kanik's Trophy at 500 Yards.
